

REFLECTIVE EXERCISE

Take a few minutes to think of the many patients you have encountered and the various health promotion and illness prevention issues they have revealed to you. Narrow your focus to one or two cases that you remember as being particularly outstanding. Try to summarize the case in three sentences or so. If you wish, you can discuss your case with the person sitting next to you.